

Umm- Let me see.
There is a birthday
song already. Um.

Hehe

And he decided to try to make a mega hit song.

Penguin! Do you think people will sing a song for every different daily
situation in the future?

Well...
Maybe yes
maybe no.

I think it would be overcome if my music
became so popular

like that song
and it was sung by generation after generation.

I'm going to make a hit song.

Penguin, you know
the wedding march
song.

Tan tan ta ta-
This one? Yeah.

One day, while he was driving,
Maw asked...

It's interesting because someone made that song
and someone used that song for their wedding.

A song for working.

His music is falling down like a waterfall without a break.

A song for washing up.

A song for watching TV.

And then it started
to be really popular so more people played that music on their weddings.

and nowadays it's essential music for
any wedding.

Do you think
there was more music
apart from that one
in the beginning?

I guess so.
And this one is the most popular one
so it's remained.

...about the wedding march song.

That was my parking song.
What do you think? Do you think people will sing this song when they park their car in the future?

His desire didn't look like
it would go away soon.

Hold on

You sang
my song
just now

Yep.
